

Citizens Review Board for Children

Your Voice as a Foster Parent Matters

Your Role as an Interested Party on Case Reviews is to:

- Share information about the case and how the child is doing in care and answer questions posed by review board members
- Ensure that children 10 and over attend the review or submit information they would like to share ahead of time via email
- Indicate if there are any unmet needs or services

CRBC as a Resource for Foster Parents

- Provide individual case advocacy for services or other needs
- Child welfare related training opportunities

About CRBC Reviews

CRBC is comprised of over 150 governor appointed volunteer members who serve across the state to review cases of children in foster care. Interested parties in the case, including birth parents and foster care parents, are invited to the reviews to provide more information about the case, enabling our members to make better informed recommendations.
